

WRITING

ISAT Goal: Grammar and Usage

Subskill: Sentence Structure, Type, Kind

RIT 231-240:

- Identify a complex sentence

RIT 221-230:

- Identify sentence patterns (sentences containing adjectives and helping verbs): noun-verb, noun-verb-noun, noun-linking verb-noun; Determine the correct verb forms or verb phrases to use in compound or complex sentences

RIT 211-220:

- Identify sentence patterns (sentences with articles, simple adjectives): noun-verb, noun-verb-noun, noun-verb-verb; Identify a sentence as simple or compound; Complete sentences correctly with words or phrases; Recognize sentences with clear meaning and correct form; Name the part of the sentence needed to complete a sentence: adjective to complete the linking verb; Recognize complete complex sentences

RIT 201-210:

- Identify compound sentences; Identify sentence patterns (some articles and possessive pronouns used in short, simple sentences): noun-verb, noun-verb-noun; Change the word order and keep the same meaning; Add a phrase to form a complete sentence; Verbalize what sentence part is needed to form a complete sentence: subject, object, adjective, or subordinate clause

RIT 191-200:

- Recognize sentences that are complete and not complete; Complete sentences with the correct phrase; Recognize complete sentences containing only a noun and a verb; Identify a simple sentence; Identify the correct word order to form a sentence; Identify a group of words as an incomplete sentence; Identify two sentences with different word order but the same meaning; Turn a clause into a complete sentence

RIT 181-190:

- Format: Statements, questions, and commands; Recognize word order specific to a question; Identify/recognize complete sentences with adverb phrases or nouns of direct address at beginning (comma in sentence); Select words in two places to form a complete sentence; Identify a group of words as an incomplete sentence; Identify sentences containing more than one idea; Identify a group of words that do not form a complete sentence – requiring very careful reading

RIT 171-180:

- Format: Statements, questions, and commands; Select words to form a complete sentence; Recognize a complete sentence; Recognize words that do not form a complete sentence; Recognize a complete question; Recognize word order that makes sense (syntax)

RIT 161-170:

- Format: Statements, questions, and commands; Recognize a complete sentence; Arrange words in order to form a complete sentences

RIT 151-160:

- No skills listed

RIT Below 150:

- No skills listed